The Creative Workshop’s popular Art Day School (ADS) features seven one-week classes. Each week of Art Day School runs Monday to Friday, following the schedule at right.

Each day consists of a morning class and an afternoon class, described on the next page.

Snacks are provided in the morning and the afternoon.

Students bring their own lunches and a drink (include an ice pack please). No glass containers.

Staffing: Each class has a lead teacher, a teacher’s assistant, and often a volunteer interested in art education to help out during the day. Maximum class size is 18 children.

Age: Art Day School is for children 7–13. Students are divided into two groups, for ages 7–9 and 10–13.

Cost: Each week costs $230 for Gallery members, and $255 for non-members.

Drop off and pick up: Your child’s safety is of paramount importance to us. You must bring your child into the Creative Workshop and sign him/her in, and in the afternoon to sign your child out. If want any other person (including a spouse) to have permission to pick up your child, please list them on the next page.

Is Art Day School right for my child? The program is fabulous for children who are curious about or enthusiastic for art and art making. Art Day School is a safe, and fun learning environment with a strong focus on trying new things.

ART DAY SCHOOL 2007

Please note that children enrolled in a week of Art Day School take both classes below listed for that week.

WEEK 1 (JUNE 25–29)

Piece It Together: Mosaics and Paintings as Puzzles
Lisa Myers
AGES 7–9 SOLD OUT!

Using all sorts of materials, kids will create mosaics, puzzles and mixed-up paintings as they learn about color, design and composition. We'll draw inspiration from the Gallery's Pompeii mosaic and the art of stained glass.

Colorful Comics
Warren Mianecke
AGES 7–9 SOLD OUT!

Learn the fundamentals of cartooning and comics as you draw and paint your way through this fun week. Create your own characters and illustrate their adventures. Students at this drawing-focused, very creative week will have a fantastic printed comic book of their own creation to keep.

WEEK 2 (JULY 9–13)

Polymer Clay
Susan Link
AGES 7–9

Create functional and abstract sculpture and jewelry using polymer clay (a plastic-based material, think FIMO or Sculpey). Using molds, cutters, rollers, stamps, punches and other mediums, we'll make all sorts of useful and colorful objects like pens, magnets, beads and pencil holders. We'll look at sculpture in the Gallery's collection for inspiration.

Drawing and Painting
Heather Garrand
AGES 7–9

Become a sketch-hunter, drawing and painting your own impressions and ideas based on the things you see in the Gallery's permanent collection and everywhere else. Learn to see better at drawing quick, accurately, and better at drawing things you think are too hard to draw. We'll also do our share of painting, using color (and all sorts of innovative materials) to bring out the best of our drawings.

WEEK 3 (JULY 23–27)

Printmaking
Amy O'Connor
AGES 7–9

Why make one piece of art when you can make more? Explore and create as you learn the basic techniques of printmaking using stamps, stencils, and plates to make editions of your own amazing prints. Make one, two, three...a bazillion prints to keep and trade and give as gifts!

Sculpture!
Shelly Patterson
AGES 7–9

Budding sculptors will use wood, clay, polymer clay, (stuff other people might call) junk, found objects etc., to make amazing sculptures. We'll create animals, people and abstract work utilizing elements and principles of design, drawing inspiration from sculptures in the Gallery (think Nevelson, Butlerfield and Boltanski). Don't be surprised if your sculpture lights up.

WEEK 4 (AUGUST 6–10)

Scultpures from Nature
Lisa Myers
AGES 7–9

From pretty flowers to pretty creepy crawling insects, we will be inspired by the growing things around us as art and science collide. Create three-dimensional wood sculptures, fabric sculptures and stained glass.

Puppets!
Susan Link
AGES 7–9

Create your own amazing characters as you learn some traditional and cool new puppet making techniques (including hand, found object and jointed puppets). You'll come away with a new friend that you (literally) made yourself. This class concludes with a creative performance.

WEEK 5 (AUGUST 13–17)

The Artist’s Crayon is a Pastel
Shelly Patterson
AGES 7–9

Most artists (like Leonardo da Vinci or Vincent van Gogh or Georgia O’Keeffe or…you!) start with drawing. The focus in this class is improving our drawing skills as we learn more about the great artists of the past and experiment with dry materials like pencil, charcoal and colorful pastels.

Playing with Paper
Mimi Smith
AGES 7–9

What can you do with paper? Dyeing, painting, stamping, cutting, molding, marbling, and weaving are some of the techniques we will explore. You will be amazed at the way paper can be formed to create some far-out sculptures with unusual textures. This class will unleash your creative talents.

WEEK 6 (AUGUST 20–24)

Creating Cool Art with Warm Colors
Amy O’Connor
AGES 7–9

Despite the heat of summer, we'll stay cool as we make paintings, drawings, even prints using what we learn about how colors work. We'll look for color outside, in the Gallery, and in the work of artists throughout history and make some colorful frameable wonders.

WEEK 7 (AUGUST 27-31)

Off the Wall Art
Warren Mianecke
AGES 7–9

Create pictures that are sculpture--and sculptures that hang on the wall. In this exciting class we'll make brightly-colored paintings and collages that literally jump out of their frames. Expect to see and make a lot of eye-catching artwork this week.

Dyeing for Color
Mimi Smith
AGES 7–9

A week for color, fun, and fabric and paper that is to-dye for! Learn how dyes work and how to use Kool-Aid as a dye. We'll make tie-dyes, braids for handles, necklaces and maybe even a small quilt.
