WOMEN DO NOT WANT TO VOTE

More than a thousand Rochester women, representing thousands of other Rochester women who have not taken an active part on suffrage question, protest against imposition of the vote on the majority of women by a small minority.

We, women of the City of Rochester, and City of Monroe, ask the men to vote against the proposed amendment of the Constitution of the state, conferring suffrage on women. We thoroughly realize that men and women should do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity. If she continues to act as the friend and adviser of man in his homes and in such public activities as he may enter, men and women shall do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity. If she continues to act as the friend and adviser of man in his homes and in such public activities as he may enter, men and women shall do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity.

We, women of the City of Rochester, and City of Monroe, ask the men to vote against the proposed amendment of the Constitution of the state, conferring suffrage on women. We thoroughly realize that men and women should do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity. If she continues to act as the friend and adviser of man in his homes and in such public activities as he may enter, men and women shall do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity. If she continues to act as the friend and adviser of man in his homes and in such public activities as he may enter, men and women shall do precisely the same things, and we believe that the influence of women will count more strongly for the good of the state and of humanity.