A DAY WITH JULIE JOHNSON

Spend a day with artist Julie Johnson. She will demonstrate her work and methods with enough time left for you to get her feedback.

Friday, January 26
9:30 AM-4:30 PM (Bring lunch and some of your own work)
$65 ($55 for MAG members)

Julie Johnson makes functional pottery in porcelain with an emphasis on surface design and decoration. Spend a day with her at the Creative Workshop. The day includes a throwing and surface decoration demonstration, a slide presentation and plenty of time to talk about your work.

Johnson has exhibited widely, including most recently at Santa Fe Clay, the Contemporary Crafts Museum and Gallery in Portland, OR, and the Baltimore Clayworks. She has a MFA from Utah State and a BFA from Kansas City Art Institute and has taught at the Cornell Ceramics Studio in Ithaca and the Carbondale Clay Center in Colorado.

At the Gallery, Johnson was a featured artist at this fall’s Sixth Annual Fine Crafts Show and has won awards of merit at the last two Clothesline Festivals.

To register, or for more information, call 473-7720 ext. 3062, class code is 30420.