

OPPORTUNITY FOR CURRENT COLLEGE STUDENTS
INTERNSHIPS IN THE MEMORIAL ART GALLERY'S CREATIVE WORKSHOP
AVAILABLE FOR FALL 2019 or WINTER 2020 or SPRING 2020 or SUMMER 2019

FACTSHEET

The Creative Workshop at the Memorial Art Gallery is looking for up to two volunteer interns, ideally currently enrolled in an art, art education, art history, museum studies or art-related local college program. Interns work between 5- 15 hours a week (flexible hours, often Saturdays during the school year, sometimes evenings) to help promote, organize, design, install and de-install student art exhibits in the Lucy Burne Gallery. Our latest brochure is here <http://mag.rochester.edu/creativeworkshop>

These internship experiences offer motivated interns the opportunity to make curatorial decisions and learn proper hanging methods while working within a busy, collaborative and highly creative museum environment. Shows scheduled for the 2019/2020 academic year include: several adult student shows, several children's shows, a Faculty show in Summer of 2019, an offsite Faculty show, and a Teen artist show. The Creative Workshop is a vital part of the Marketing and Engagement division of the MAG and projects may include special events, Open Houses, and media promotions.

Interns also work directly with classes gaining valuable experience in art educational settings. They may document classes, assist with instruction and help connect students with exhibitions.

While designed as non-credit internships, students in the past have earned credit for similar experiences. I, Rachael Baldanza, supervise interns, keeping a keen eye on balancing the educational goals and needs of the student with our busy program, and working to introduce them to new ideas, people and projects when appropriate.
